

organic spa

MAGAZINE

at work

Cool Office Products + Psychological Flexibility

Support System

Wells Mason creates these bookends from scraps of steel and wood left over from his other projects. Mason's company, Ironwood Industries, custom designs and fabricates everything from ornamental ironwork to sculpture and furniture. The bookends are part of his Umami Collection, a series of so-called "experimental furniture" made exclusively from recycled materials. $200 per pair, ironwoodindustries.com

—Rima Stupl